GRATA International in China Business Law Journal: Deals of the Year 2018

We are glad to announce that one of GRATA International's successful projects has been selected as one of the winners of China Business Law Journal: Deals of the Year 2018.

Zhanatas wind power station (100 MW) project in Kazakhstan was selected as one of the landmark China-related deals of 2018 by the editorial team at China Business Law Journal and included in January issue of China Business Law Journal as one of the most prominent Belt-and-Road projects. This will be the first renewable energy project on the China-Kazakhstan production capacity cooperation list to come on stream. It will also be the largest wind-power project to come on stream in Kazakhstan and slated to start production on 9 March 2020.

Sunshine Law Firm was legal counsel to China Power International Development (China Power), and GRATA International was Kazakhstani legal counsel. GRATA's team on this project included Gulnur Nurkeyeva, head of China desk, Shaimerden Chikanayev, head of Banking & Finance, and Marina Kahiani, co-head of Banking and Finance.

Analysis of this year's winning deals and the law firms that guided them can be found in Deals of the Year report <https://www.vantageasia.com/china-deals-of-the-year-2018/#OBOR10>
